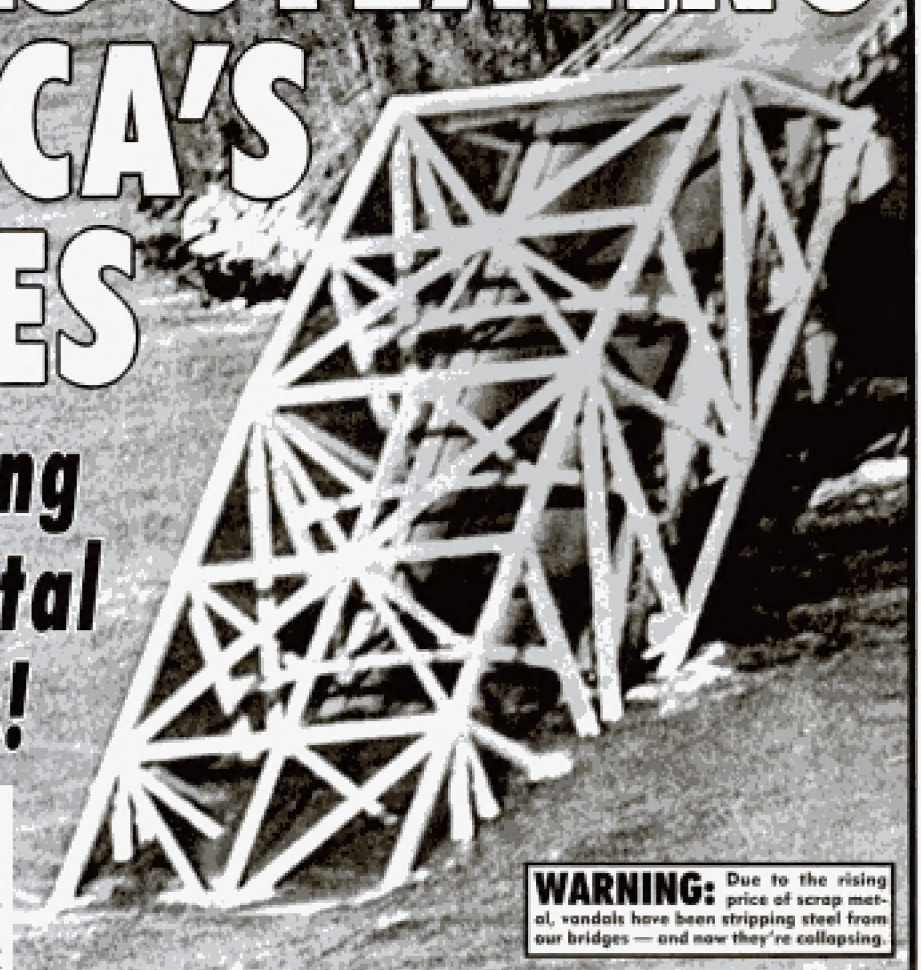
THIEVES STEALING AMERICA'S BRIDGES

. . . and selling the scrap metal for big bucks!



WARNING: Due to the rising price of scrap metal, vandals have been stripping steel from our bridges — and now they're collapsing.

By PETER MIDLAND / Weekly World News

WASHINGTON — Scavengers are stripping America's bridges of nuts, bolts, beams, expansion joints and anything else they can get their hands on in a brazen bid to line their pockets with the cash they can get from the sale of scrap metal!

Even worse, a secret study and report commissioned by the Federal Department of Transportation reveals the problem is epidemic, with important bridge components disappearing in every state.

The report goes on to say that partially stripped bridges are collapsing every day. Because most of the incidents occur in rural areas, they rarely make headlines.

But the DOT study concluded that it's "only a matter of time before innocent motorists are killed."

"The situation is beyond severe, it's critical — and there isn't a damn thing we can do about it," said one DOT insider.

"You might expect something like this to happen in an underdeveloped country, where people are starving and will do anything for a buck, but this is the United States," he continued.

"What are these people going to do when they finish with the bridges, dismantle skyscrapers?"

DOT officials declined to discuss the situation but the Copies leaked to the press indicate that bridge scavengers have been a nuisance since the early 1980s.

But it has only been in the past five years that they have begun to dismantle bridges on a large scale. As you might suspect, bridges most likely to be hit are located in small towns and the countryside where officials are unable or unwilling to monitor the condition and safety of bridges in their jurisdiction.

But no bridge is immune, as evidenced by the estimated six tons of steel that are stripped off San Francisco's Golden Gate Bridge — and replaced at taxpayer expense — each year.

"Scavengers fall into two categories. The amateurs, who in search of an easy buck, and the professionals, who systematically dismantle bridges and approach their work like you and I approach our jobs," said the insider.

"If you know what you're doing, you can easily earn $500 to $1,000 a day stripping the metal off bridges," he added. "It's a lucrative business if you don't mind breaking the law and endangering lives for a living."

NEW SURVEY REVEALS . . .

Americans waste a whopping 18 weeks a year goofing off on the job!

LOS ANGELES — The average American worker wastes a mind-boggling 18 weeks a year goofing off on the job!

A survey conducted by a national executive recruiting firm showed that workers throw the time away by:

- Lounging at the water fountain, coffee pot or break
- Gossiping about co-workers.
- Complaining about the boss.
- Making personal calls on company time.

TOENAIL BITING!

New stress-related habit afflicts thousands of Americans!

By LISA MERAKIS
Weekly World News

CHICAGO — Worried health experts are tracking a destructive new stress-related habit that is endangering the American population: Toenail biting!

According to Dr. David MacAwin, head of the Physicians for Better Health watchdog group, the peculiar practice is affecting more and more people. It is unsightly and embarrassing — and it can cause medical problems like infection, muscle pulls and even dislocated joints, he says.

"This is a serious problem, no matter how ridiculous the behavior may seem," said Dr. MacAwin, a retired internist. "In 1970, only about two percent of the population suffered from the toenail-biting habit. Today that number has soared to a shocking 8 percent of Americans. That's a fourfold increase.

"We've seen patients who could not walk because of damage they had inflicted on their feet. One little boy had to have his right foot amputated. This is a major medical concern and we want to get the word out that it's dangerous and should be avoided."

The physician says more and more doctors around the country are reporting incidents of severe toe injury stemming from the bizarre practice, which until recently was not widely recognized.

HOW EMBARRASSING: Denise Lord gets ready to nibble on her toenails.

The growing problem has health officials worried because toenail biters are reluctant to seek help, Dr. MacAwin says.

"They are embarrassed to admit that when no one's looking they take off their shoes and socks and nibble on their toenails," he explained.

"People in this country think of feet as smelly and ugly. Toenail biters are ashamed of their habit."

IT'S GROSS AND DISGUSTING — BUT FOLKS CAN'T STOP DOING IT!

Dr. MacAwin advises closet toenail biters to see a doctor if they suffer any pain from their habit. And he says biters can — and should — kick the habit by following these simple tips:

● Always wear lace-up shoes. "Make it difficult for yourself to give in to the toenail-biting urge by protecting yourself with shoes that take time and effort to remove."

● Use athlete's foot powder

life. "Toenail biting is associated with anxiety and feelings of pressure. Try to relax and bring down stress levels with meditation, exercise and restful hobbies."

● Tell a trusted friend about your problem. "You need to share with others so that you are freed from a sense of shame and compulsion that actually encourages your habit.

"Talking out your feelings about toenail biting will help women. If you are proud of the appearance of your toenails you are less likely to nibble them off."

TODDLERS BAKED TO DEATH IN BLAZING-HOT CAR — WHILE MOM PARTIED, SAY COPS

DISTRAUGHT mom Jennie Ducker surrendering herself to authorities. She's been indicted on two counts of first-degree muder.

By JACK ALEXANDER / Weekly World News

McMINNVILLE, Tenn. — Two helpless tots died in sweltering 120-degree temperatures locked inside their mom's parked car for about nine hours — while she partied with four men in a motel room, say cops.

"The little boys were unconscious and still buckled up in the backseat with the windows rolled up when their mother returned to her car around 1 p.m.," Police Chief Dickie Kesey said.

Her 9-hour drinking binge cost her sons their lives!

A grand jury indicted Jennie Bain Ducker, 20, on two counts of first-degree murder in the horrifying deaths of 1-year-old Dustin Ducker and his 23-month-old brother, Devin, both of whom apparently died of dehydration and suffocation.

One-year-old Dustin Ducker.

Twenty-three-month-old Devin Ducker.

Estimates placed the temperature at 89 to 92 degrees outside and up to 115 or 120 inside the locked car.

The distraught mother appeared to be drunk when she rushed her tiny sons to Chief Kesey added.

A blood-alcohol test taken by Mrs. Ducker showed a .06 reading, but that was nearly 10 hours after she arrived at the motel and an hour after she found her dead sons.

Police believe she may have gone into the motel room as early as 4 a.m. to visit four men who had just gotten off work at a plant here. Cops surmise she drank alcohol and fell asleep.

She is separated from her husband, James, who lives in North Carolina.

Witnesses at the motel told saw Mrs. Ducker return to it periodically.

The men also said they didn't know the kids were in the car.

District Attorney Bill Locke said he won't have to prove premeditation to convict Mrs. Ducker of first-degree murder charges.

"There's another clause that makes this fall under first-degree murder that says you can charge a person with it if you have the reckless killing of a child under 16 due to aggravated child abuse," Locke said.

Mrs. Ducker has been released on $75,000 bond from jail.

Her lawyer, Michael Galligan, says she is devastated.

"She is still in shock and still grieving," Galligan said. "When I told her about the think her attitude basically is that there is nothing the legal system can do to hurt her any worse than she's already hurting now."

SHOCKING NEW STUDY SHOWS HOW WOMEN ARE RIPPED OFF!

By MARK KENDALL/Weekly World News

Women are constantly getting ripped off — they have to pay more than men for the exact same items, a startling new government study reveals.

In a greedy gender gyp, investigators discovered that women are routinely overcharged for haircuts, dry cleaning and used cars.

"For years, women have been losing their shirts, getting clipped and taken for a ride by cleaners, hair salons and used-car lots," said a commissioner of New York City's Department of Consumer Affairs, which conducted the study.

"Women are losing between $1 million and $2 million annually just in dry cleaning overcharges, just in New York. Imagine what the number is nationwide." For the study, male and female consumer investigators surveyed 50 car dealers and 80 hair salons and 80 dry cleaners.

They found that:

- Salesmen at 21 auto dealers quoted prices to women that averaged $400 — and in one case $1,000 — more per car than the price offered men. At only 11 dealers were women quoted lower prices and at the others, the same price was offered to both sexes.
- Two-thirds of the hair shops surveyed charged women 25 percent more than men for a basic shampoo, cut and blow-dry. Women paid an average of about $30, while men paid $16.
- The average price for dry cleaning a woman's shirt was $3.29 compared with $2.91 paid by men. And a third of the dry cleaners that also do laundry wouldn't wash women's shirts, forcing them to pay the extra cost to dry-clean them.

Consumer Affairs and New York's Human Rights Commission warned the auto, hair salon and dry cleaning industry to end their unfair practices within 60 days or be sued for discrimination.

The get-tough action was praised by an executive director of the Center for Women's Policy Studies, a national equal rights group based in Washington.

"Price discrimination is a nationwide problem," she said. "The New York report is confirming what women have known all along."

HOW TO TELL IF SOMEONE IS SECRETLY ATTRACTED TO YOU!

By observing subtle, unspoken "love signals" you can tell when someone is secretly interested in you, an expert reveals.

Even a simple tilt of the head can be a tip-off that a stranger would like to make contact, said Dr. David Givens, who spent four years researching in bars and other meeting places for his book Love Signals.

Here he discloses some of the unconscious ways people express interest.

● Tilting the head — "When you make eye contact with an unfamiliar person who then tilts his or her head to the side, it means that person's probably secretly interested in you," explained Dr. Givens. "This is a worldwide sign of submissiveness and deep interest."

● Mirroring — If a person sitting near you unwittingly imitates you — leaning back when you lean back, for instance — you can safely assume that person is showing an interest in you, said Dr. Givens.

● Exaggerated gestures — Rather than a simple gesture, a person who'd like to catch your eye might make a very elaborate gesture instead, the author said. "For example, instead of a quick glance at her watch, a woman may overextend her arm, then dramatically bring the watch back to her face and tilt her head over to read the dial. It is a subtle way for her to telegraph her wish to be spoken to."

● Hands between the knees — "This is a typical posture men take when they're speaking with women they like. The man will lean forward in his chair, rest his forearms on his knees and clasp his hands between his knees, looking like a blushing third grader stretching toward his pretty teacher. Although women do it also, it's more of a male thing," Dr. Givens said.

● Lovesick look — "In this signal, the other person's eyebrows just barely rise, as if the lifting takes every last ounce of energy. The face goes slack and the lower jaw drops, but the lips remain sealed so that the bottom half of the face looks longer.

"This is the look of someone who's lovesick and depressed because you're not returning his or her interest," explained Dr. Givens.

Man sues over anchovies on veggie pizza

TULA, Mexico — A judge ruled in favor of an avid vegetarian who sued a pizza parlor for serving him a pizza with anchovies on it! Fernando Tovar, 37, loved the delicious vegetarian pizza he had been eating so much he asked about the ingredients. When he learned that anchovies were in the sauce, he sued the parlor for misrepresentation.

Judge Guido Gutierrez ruled that the pizza parlor had to give Tovar 10 years worth of free pizza, the amount of time Tovar had been a customer at the parlor.

Girl, 8, lands Boeing 747 after gas bomb knocks out crew

By LILA SCHVANDT / Weekly World News

AIRLINE passengers on AirTrek Flight 332 are lucky to be alive!

BONN, Germany — An 8-year-old girl became a national heroine after she saved the lives of 249 men, women and children — by taking over the controls of a passenger jet and landing it on her own!

Blonde Eva Grasser was traveling unaccompanied on a flight from Warsaw, Poland, when a gas bomb incapacitated the crew and the other passengers on her Boeing 747 jet.

She followed instructions of controllers at Bonn's international airport to deploy the landing gear, descend to the airport, land and stop the rolling aircraft.

HEROINE Eva Grasser.

"She did the impossible," said a spokesman for Poland's AirTrek charter airline. "No one was hurt. The whole thing is just amazing — a miracle."

Authorities say the dramatic incident began at 2:43 p.m. on July 1 when a terrorist gas canister exploded on AirTrek Flight 332 as it was approaching Bonn. Little Eva was in the rest room and not affected when gas filled the fuselage, rendering passengers and crew unconscious. Eva emerged from the rest room to find she was the only passenger still awake — and ran to the cockpit for help.

"She said she found the pilots asleep, tried to wake them up but couldn't," said Gerhardt Kohn of the Bonn airport public relations office. "But she could hear the voices of the control tower coming over the radio. She was able to figure out how to use the radio and tell them what her situation was."

Kohn said the frightened little girl was crying and nearly hysterical at first, but soon calmed down.

A pilot was called in to help the child as controllers monitored the plane's progress.

"We got her to check the altitude and heading and change the plane's direction," Kohn said.

"We put the 747 in a holding pattern near the airport while we explained what she was going to have to do. When the fuel tanks got low we knew we had to go ahead with it. We brought her out over a less populated area, helped her lower the landing gear and got her to steer the aircraft straight into the landing."

Kohn says there was a frightening moment when little Eva's hands froze at the controls.

But controllers managed to talk her through it and get her to land the plane.

"It was just amazing, watching this giant jet come in, wobbling and bouncing toward the runway," the public relations man said. "People in the tower were praying, they were crying.

"When she touched down we had to get her to stop the plane.

"She applied the brakes, but let up too soon and the jet rolled into another plane — but that was nothing compared to what might have happened. She did terrific."

Authorities say all 242 passengers and seven crew members survived in good shape — thanks to the heroic actions of little Eva.

5 CHILLING PREDICTIONS FOUND IN NOSTRADAMUS' COFFIN!

ANCIENT seer Nostradamus' body lies on a morgue slab with the parchment containing the predictions still in his hand.

NOSTRADAMUS' accurate forecasts have amazed the world for hundreds of years.

6 NUKE PLANTS EXPLODE IN 1996 AND 1997!

COMET THREATENS EARTH!

PARIS — Researchers who exhumed the body of Nostradamus to study the remains of the 16th-century seer's brain were stunned to find five secret and chilling new predictions clutched tightly in the corpse's shriveled, leathery hand.

By PETER STEELE
Weekly World News

That's the word from research team chief Dr. Michael Dusette, who believes the predictions are a continuation of the seer's important book, Centuries, which contained hundreds of amazingly accurate prognostications spanning a period of almost 500 years.

Among the predictions that have already come true were the rise and fall of Adolf Hitler, America's 1969 moon landing and the terrifying AIDS plague.

Yet to come, according to the secret predictions, are a horrifying series of nuclear-power plant meltdowns — and some of given Nostradamus's track record, they will come to pass," Dr. Dusette told reporters.

"What troubles me is something I call the 'death and despair quotient' implied by the predictions themselves," he continued.

"Unlike Centuries, which foresaw events both good and bad, these newly discovered predictions indicate that mankind is going to have a very tough go of it for the next three to four years."

The discovery of the predicsearchers the opportunity to study the remains of his brain.

That research was approved by French authorities, who agonized for the better part of two years before giving the experts the go-ahead.

Dr. Dusette said: "The predictions were an unexpected but most welcome bonus.

"As in Centuries, the predictions appear in the form of quatrains — four lines of rhyming verse — and are couched in highly symbolic language.

"But interpretation wasn't all that difficult. And in a brief foreword to the predictions, Nostradamus actually mentioned that the secret predictions would come to light in the year 1995. He knew in advance that we would exhume his body. In a sense, these predictions are his gift to us."

Here are the predictions the English provided by Dr. Dusette himself.

1. A mind-twisting wave of 17 hurricanes will pound America's East Coast this summer and fall, causing the deaths of one million people — and hundreds of billions of dollars in property damage.

Record heat causes severe water shortages and power blackouts in the Northeast, conditions that cause misery for millions — and result in the death of thousands.

Globally, unusually warm conditions cause serious melting of the ice cap in Antarctica, raising sea levels worldwide.

Europe suffers wildly fluctuating temperatures that, at times, will make it seem as if the seasons are changing on a daily basis. Japan can expect back-to-back tidal waves in late July or early August, causing death and destruction so severe as to rock the society to

Dead man frozen in 1955 runs out of lab — moments after he's thawed out!

By KEVIN CREED / Weekly World News

GENEVA, Switzerland — A scientific miracle turned into a living nightmare when researchers thawed out a dead man whose corpse had been frozen for 40 years — only to have the man snap back to life and flee from the laboratory!

A country-wide manhunt remains in effect for Rolf Breuer, the first person ever to be kept in frozen storage by scientists and return to life.

The historic event took place at the Geneva Cryogenics Laboratory where Breuer's body had been kept for four decades.

Moments after the thawing process was complete, Breuer inexplicably came back to life. He seemed to become frightened and disoriented and before the lab's team of researchers could stop him, he jumped up and bolted screaming from the lab. He was described as "a little wobbly on his feet" at first but adjusted quickly.

"We simply never considered that this might happen," said Dr. Ernst Baumann, director of the prestigious lab. "We were thawing him to donate his heart and liver as transplant organs.

"Now it's imperative that we get him back immediately. We've got to get him psychologically oriented to the present. The culture shock could be unbearable for him. We've got a man running loose whose mind is geared to the mid-'50s."

The incredible story began on June 11, 1955 when Breuer, then a 52-year-old multi-millionaire clock manufacturer, was diagnosed with a brain tumor. At that time, surgeons weren't knowledgeable enough to remove the growth. So Breuer asked that his body be frozen when he died because he hoped to be revived when medical science developed the skills to cure his tumor.

After 40 years though, scientists decided Breuer was a lost cause. They chose to thaw him out and donate his organs. They have no explanation as to why he came back to life.

Dr. Baumann is concerned not only for Breuer's safety but the safety of the public as well.

"Remember, this man has a brain tumor that could turn him violent at any moment," said the 55-year-old researcher.

"When you add that to his frustration at trying to adjust to the 1990s, you have the potential for a dangerous outburst."

THE FROZEN body of Rolf Breuer was kept in a cryogenics lab like the one shown in this drawing.

A mother's love does not have 20/20 vision.

Heat up your sex life — by turning ON the lights!

If you want to turn on your honey, turn on the lights!

That's the conclusion of researcher Russel Reiter, who found that lowering the lights can trigger the production of a hormone that causes depression and shuts down the sex drive.

CHRISTIE... HOLLYWOOD'S Answer GIRL

Do you have a question about your favorite star that you've been dying to ask? Drop a line to Christie — Hollywood's Answer Girl and she'll dig up the inside scoop.
Write to: Weekly World News, Christie — Hollywood's Answer Girl, 600 S. East Coast Ave., Lantana, Fla. 33462.

Q I saw Keanu Reeves in Speed — and man, what a hunk! But I keep hearing these stories that he's gay. Could that be true?
— Linda F., St. Helens, Ore.

A It could be — but it isn't. You can breathe easy, because my sources tell me the hot new star is a straight arrow in every way. Some creep started a rumor that Keanu was having a homosexual fling with movie mogul David Geffen, but the truth is, Keanu has never even met David Geffen.

FALSE RUMORS: Keanu Reeves.

Q Michael Bolton is such a good-looking, smooth, kindhearted guy. Is he as wonderful in real life as he seems to his fans?
— Vicky K., Chicago

A In a word, no — not according to the rumor mill. The hot gossip details an encounter singer Bolton had with a parking valet that highlights the darker side of his character. It seems the valet tapped him on the shoulder to ask him when he wanted his car and Bolton supposedly slapped his hand away, shouting, "Don't you dare touch me — I'm a star!"

A DARK SIDE: Michael Bolton.

Q Why don't Oprah Winfrey and her man Stedman Graham tie the knot and get to the business of raising a family? Don't they know the biological clock is ticking?
— Rose B., Raleigh, N.C.

A Maybe the endlessly postponed nuptials of America's talk show queen have something to do with her secret fear of becoming a mom. Oprah recently confessed on Black Entertainment Television that she's scared to death of having kids. "I'm afraid that I will not be able to live up to what I believe a mother should be," she said. "I would be afraid that I would make a lot of the same mistakes that were made with me. I would be afraid that I don't have the courage at this time in my life to follow through to do it the way it needs to be done."

TALK SHOW QUEEN'S FEAR OF BECOMING A MOM: Stedman Graham and Oprah Winfrey.

Q I want the scoop on what Batman Forever star Val Kilmer wore under his Batman suit. Can you find out for me?
— Patty W., Portland, Ore.

A Kilmer was in the buff under that tight-fitting Batsuit. He had to strip down, he says, because inside his superclothes the temperatures hit about 140 degrees. "It was like being old . . . you feel young . . . but your body just can't do things at the same speed," he told Movieline magazine. "Plus, you can't see. Or breathe. You can't find things. Your joints ache for no reason. And you can't hear. I did a lot of acting with my lips."

GOING BATTY: Val Kilmer.

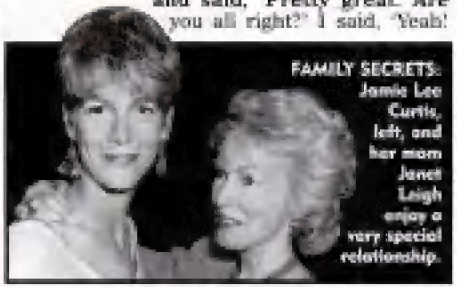
Q I just found out that sexy movie star Jamie Lee Curtis is the daughter of Psycho star Janet Leigh. What kind of relationship do they have?
— Trina P., Norwich, Vt.

A They're extremely close. Jamie tells this story: "The day I lost my virginity, I told my mother right afterward. She cried and said, 'Pretty great. Are you all right?' I said, 'Yeah!



FAMILY SECRETS: Jamie Lee Curtis, left, and her mom Janet Leigh enjoy a very special relationship.

Q I loved Forrest Gump! Is there going to be a sequel, and if so, when?
— Angela F., Vancouver, Wash.

PLAYING HARD TO GET: Tom Hanks.

A Forrest Gump author Winston Groom has put the finishing touches on a continuation of the Gump saga — a second book called Gump & Co. Trouble is, Tom Hanks and director Bob Zemeckis are playing hard to get. Unless they get behind the project, chances are slim it will ever get to the big screen.

Q Christie, you have a reputation for knowing which new actors will become major superstars and which ones will drop into obscurity. Who's going to be the next giant of the silver screen?
— Wallace S., Tampa, Fla.

BEDROOM EYES: Hugh Grant.

A You heard it here first! Cuddly British heart-throb Hugh Grant is the guy. He's already weakened the knees of women all over America in the films Four Weddings and a Funeral and Sirens. And I predict his sheepish charm, bedroom eyes and boyishly dishevelled hair will soon make him the next Tom Cruise.

Q My wife says television was already around in 1946. I say it wasn't before 1949. Who's right?
— Joe P., Syracuse, N.Y.

A The National Broadcasting Co. began experimental broadcasts in 1931, and regular broadcasts began April 30, 1939, as President Franklin D. Roosevelt opened the World's Fair.

EYE-POPPING BEAUTY!

Tantalizing Tracy Hauge was recently voted Texas' Most Unforgettable Woman — and you don't need 20-20 eyesight to see why. The Houston beauty is an up-and-coming model whose luscious likeness has begun popping up on billboards and magazine covers around the country.

Q A week after President Kennedy's assassination, his widow Jackie requested several things to memorialize her dead husband. What were they?
— Dorothy K., Tulsa, Okla.

A In a 1963 interview with journalist Theodore H. White, Jackie, who died of cancer in May 1994, wanted an eternal flame at his Arlington National Cemetery grave. She also wanted her late husband's name connected with the rocket booster that helped us beat the Russians to the moon. An eternal flame still burns at his grave. And NASA's base at Cape Canaveral is called the Kennedy Space Center. But the rocket that propelled our spaceship to the moon didn't bear the President's name.

Q I've heard that Elvis Presley was no fan of Barbra Streisand. In fact, wasn't he downright rude to her the first time he heard her sing?
— Roger P., Los Angeles

A "She sucks," The King told pal and road crew member Lamar Fike after watching her perform. Several Bloody Marys later, Elvis went backstage. But instead of complimenting Streisand, he asked, "Man, what did you ever see in Elliott Gould?"

Babs Streisand was once married to actor Gould.

Cannibal witch doctors do liposuction — with bamboo straws!

They sucked the fat right out of women's thighs, say eyewitnesses

By KEVIN CREED
Weekly World News

BINTULU, Borneo — Doctors worldwide are warning overweight women to steer clear of the trendy but risky weight-loss fad known as "Oral Liposuction" — a procedure in which cannibal witch doctors suck fat cells out of a woman's body with bamboo straws!

The operation is practiced by the mysterious Kixil natives who inhabit the coastal jungle near here. It's been a blessing to hundreds of women, but a living nightmare for others. At least nineteen women who have followed those Kixil guides into the jungle for the crude surgery have contracted life-threatening infections that made them sick for weeks.

Others report experiencing extreme pain.

But Malaysia government spokesman Salmy Zulkafly says that, despite the dangers, more than 500 women, most of them American, have had the surgery. And they continue to flock here in droves.

"Nine days ago I was a fat disgusting slob," says Detroit widow Pam Grentory, 39, who had the O.L. procedure last week. "I tried every diet and exercise program in the book but nothing worked.

"They removed 178 pounds of blubber from my body, leaving me at a svelte 134. There's not an ounce of cellulite on me. And I owe it all to the skill and know-how of those wonderful cannibals."

Even some western physicians admit that the operation sometimes works. "They sucked the fat right out of a woman's thighs," said one British medical expert. "I saw it with my own eyes."

The O.L. surgery has been practiced for years among the Kixils. But since the tribe was absorbed into modern society, their village has become a virtual slum. So in May they began offering O.L. to the public at large for the whopping sum of $30,000 per procedure.

They anesthetize the patient with a natural plant extract and use primitive cutting instruments to make tiny incisions. Then they insert hollow bamboo shoots and draw out the fat cells orally.

Supporters claim that, properly practiced, O.L. is more effective than our modern cosmetic liposuction because the procedure is more intimate.

"They know just how much fat to suck out," said Mrs. Grentory. "They stop just before they start removing muscle cells."

But Zulkafly says the trouble is that O.L. is not always "properly practiced."

"It's alarming that people will go to such great lengths to be slim," says Zulkafly. "We know very little about the Kixils. They've only been in contact with civilized society for five years. For countless generations they've eaten human flesh and remained distant from us.

PAM GRENTORY was a fat slob.

"They know virtually nothing about sterilization procedures. And the anesthetic sometimes wears off early causing severe pain to the patient."

Borneo authorities are investigating the Kixil witch doctors and are trying to pass legislation banning O.L.

The greatest sermons are lived — not preached.

ENERGETIC Audrey Stubbart, right, credits working hard at what she loves with keeping her going. Here she edits a story with fellow Examiner staffers.

By R. NEALE LIND / Weekly World News

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Last month sprightly senior Audrey Stubbart celebrated her 100th birthday — by putting in an eight-hour day at her full-time job as copy editor for the Independence Examiner newspaper!

The energetic widow believes that working hard at what she loves is what keeps her going. And she shows no signs of slowing down.

"Work makes me feel like I'm contributing," says the high-spirited ball-of-fire who has been working at the paper since 1960 — that makes 35 years of checking stories over for errors.

"Work gives me a sense of self-worth and if you don't have self-worth you don't have anything."

Executive Editor Jeff Fox says Audrey's love of the written word and respect for the language make her one of the paper's most valuable assets.

"She's probably the best person on staff for holding to say?' She spots things and saves us from a lot of silly mistakes," Fox says.

Mrs. Stubbart's love of English began back in her childhood — before the turn of the century. As a youngster in Wyoming she developed a love of reading because, as she puts it, "that's all there was to do."

She taught school there, married and had five children — all of them born at home. She moved to Independence at the age of 49 in 1944, toward the end of World War II.

Her work with a Missouri until she was forced to retire in 1960 at age 65.

That's when she started with the Examiner which has no such forced retirement policy — a policy Mrs. Stubbart has strong feelings about.

"It's the worst economical thing ever done to working people in the United States," she says. "I've had 35 good productive years of labor since then."

And she has every intention of working as long as her good health continues.

MY AMERICA By ED ANGER

A woman's place is in the home — with the dog!

BY GUM, you never saw June Lockhart leave Lassie home alone.

Our canine pets are the forgotten victims of single-parent families!

I'm madder than Lassie with a stale Milkbone over all this whining about the damage single-parent families are doing to America's children.

Let's face it. If those yappy women's libbers hadn't spent the last 25 years persuading our wives and mothers to go out and get jobs, the vast majority of runaway husbands would never have abandoned their families in the first place.

ED ANGER'S dog Dodger.

Why'd they leave? Simply because men really can't stand to come home to a houseful of screaming kids and find the wife still at work, that's why.

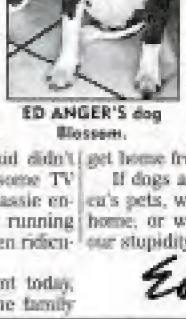
Women belong in the home, for Pete's sake. I know it, you know it and even the damn National Organization for Women knows it.

But with all this whining and crying about the effect single-parent homes have on kids, nobody's said a word about the forgotten victims of this national disgrace — man's best friend, our beloved dogs.

I just read an appalling statistic from a Harvard veterinary research group that says nearly 27 million dogs must stay home alone during the workweek.

These poor animals, like their human rug-rat counterparts, usually wind up in serious trouble because they lack proper supervision. It's not uncommon to hear horror stories about nice dogs joining packs of street mongrels — stealing food from other animals, chasing mailmen or committing random acts of vandalism like chewing up sofas and peeing on carpets just for spite.

Dogfights are breaking out with such frequency that we hardly notice them anymore. And sex acts, which used to take place only in the privacy of the dog's backyard, are now being engaged in anywhere, anytime.



ED ANGER'S dog Blossom.

Command most 1990s dogs to SIT or STAY and they'll look at you like you've lost your marbles.

That's a far cry from the 1950s, when dogs were a joy to have around the house. Take Lassie, for instance. What American kid didn't love watching her wholesome TV show? Even thinking of Lassie engaging in casual sex or running with a pack would have been ridiculous.

But things are different today, by gum. Face it, folks. The family dog needs a woman at home just as much as any kid does. But what makes me so pig-biting mad is that so few people, in government or out, can see the writing on the wall.

What kind of pups are today's dysfunctional dogs going to raise? A bunch of canine trash, most likely — unwilling or unable to adjust anywhere but on the mean streets of America, taking a crap anywhere they feel like it, taking a bite out of anyone they please.

How many times will we have to step in their do-do before we finally bite the bullet and send women back home where they belong?

I have two of the best-behaved English bullterriers on the planet and who do I have to thank for it? My wife Thelma Jean, that's who. She feeds them three squares a day, mops their brow when they're sick and picks fleas off 'em with tweezers. What's more, I expect her to get each dog a minimum of 45 minutes a day before I get home from work.

If dogs are the future of America's pets, we either get Mom back home, or we'll all have to pay for our stupidity later.

Ed Anger

TO MY READERS:

I'm happy to be back at my typewriter after taking a couple of weeks off to handle a messy little family situation we all go through from time to time.

My wife of 40 years, Thelma Jean — evidently led astray by one of her mouthy women's libber friends — recently filed for divorce. Why, I still don't know.

But I'm happy to report that she's back home where she belongs and everything is hunky-dory. The dogs are happier and the grandkids are greedily digging into her home-baked apple cobbler. Thanks to the thousands of readers who wrote this past week telling me to hang in there.

TALK TO YOURSELF — it's a great way to beat the blues!

By LOU MARTIN / Weekly World News

There's nothing wrong with talking out loud to yourself — in fact, it can be a terrific way to beat the blues, say psychologists.

"Having a good chat with yourself can solve your problems and banish depression," declares psychologist and author David Bresler.

"We talk to ourselves all the time. The problem is that the part of ourselves we listen to is our inner critic — the part of us that tells us we're no good.

"The NFL quarterback who thinks: 'I'm going to lose this big game,' usually ends up losing the game.

"The secret is to talk to yourself positively — and get positive results."

Here are ways you can cheer up by talking out loud to yourself, from Dr. Bresler and Dr. Richard Blue.

1. COUNT YOUR BLESSINGS. Tick off all of the positive things that have happened to you in the course of the day. Most may be minor pleasures — such as having one great conversation with a friend.

But as you list them aloud, you'll realize you actually have plenty to be happy about.

2. PROMISE TO STOP BEING A PERFECTIONIST. It's easy to set impossible standards in life, then end up with the blues when things don't go 100 percent your way. So tell yourself, "I'm going to stop being a perfectionist — because life isn't perfect."

3. TALK TO YOURSELF KINDLY. Instead of blasting yourself when things go wrong with remarks like "I really loused that job up" or "I never finish anything," be positive. Say aloud lines such as "At least I did part of it."

4. REPEAT WISE OLD SAYINGS. Some proverbs have lasted for ages — because they ring true. Repeating aloud familiar phrases such as "It's always darkest before the dawn" or "Every cloud has a silver lining" will help banish your blues.

DON'T CRY — just talk to yourself and beat depression, say experts.

Man on telephone: "I won't be able to play poker tonight. I'm under spouse arrest."

A 'PIG' STINK!

Gas-passing porkers force jetliner to make emergency landing

It would have been a long flight to South Africa

ROUTER NEWS SERVICE

LONDON — An airliner heading to South Africa was forced to turn back and make an emergency landing in Britain after 72 flatulent pigs triggered its fire alarms.

SMELLY STORY is making headlines around the world!

By JOE BERGER
Weekly World News

LONDON — The pilot of a crowded passenger jet made an emergency landing when the plane's fire alarms sounded, then discovered that the alarms had been triggered by 72 prize pigs in the cargo hold — all passing gas at the same time!

"All the beat and methane gas generated by the pigs' flatulence was enough to activate the alarms and signal an emergency," said a somber South African Airways spokesman.

And perturbed passengers aboard the flight from London to Johannesburg say the gas passed by all those airy oinkers was enough to activate their alarms as well.

"The minute I got a load of that smell, I knew somebody or something had had way too much to eat," recalled flabbergasted British businessman Thomas Moss.

"Really, it was enough to knock you out of your seat. So when the pilot announced we were turning back, everybody on the plane breathed a giant sigh of relief — and I think that was the first time any of us had breathed since the jet took off."

This particular pig tale began when airline officials loaded the blowhard hogs aboard the jet for a scheduled 11-hour flight — never dreaming how much damage 72 rootin' and tootin' porkers could do to air quality aboard the jam-packed plane.

"The breeder wanted to fly the pigs on a passenger flight because that plane was flying directly to South Africa," said an embarrassed airline spokesman. "He thought that would be less traumatic for the animals than the air before the porkers' penchant for pooting had the 305 human passengers aboard squirming in their seats.

"Those pigs were down there eating and passing gas, eating and passing gas, and it didn't take long before that smell came seeping up into the passenger compartment," said amused tourist Teresa Nunez. "Nobody had taken into account the fact that pigs are very flatulent animals."

forcing the panic-stricken pilot to make an emergency landing in London.

"I was never so glad to be back on the ground in my entire life," laughed relieved Teresa, 37.

TOP SECRET

COSMIC PATRIOT FILES

Compiled by "The Committee of 12 to Save the Earth"
Edited by Commander X

© ABELARD PRODUCTIONS, INC.
ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

The COSMIC PATRIOT FILES represent years of dedicated research into some of the most thought provoking - and certainly scariest - topics you are likely ever to be confronted with. And while no concerns may be difficult for some to accept at face value, those who carefully scrutinize this closely written text will realize its true significance as being the most important such document of our age (if not all times!)

It is the conclusion of those who compiled this book that the human race has long been led astray by a secret - or "shadow" - government, best known to outsiders as the Illuminati, the grand-daddy of all Secret Societies thought to exist. It is this group of "global monsters" who have for centuries been in control of what the human race is allowed to believe and think.

It is said that the Illuminati is responsible for all wars, for the assassination of world leaders not willing to "give in" to the secret agency's sinister ways, and for controlling the flow of international currency and reaping financial disaster and mayhem wherever - and whenever - possible.

The COSMIC PATRIOT FILES are definitely NOT meant for everyone. "The Committee of 12 to Save The Earth," fully realizes this massive work would only likely reach a "select" audience who needs to know the truth about these many hidden - and previously forbidden - subjects.

The COSMIC PATRIOT FILES is broken down into eleven separate sections - and presented in two separate volumes for easy handling and readability. There are no pictures or graphics to take up needless room, but page after page after page of all important documentation - the documentation you may need in order to survive the troubled times just up ahead as the forces of evil attempt to send out to anti-christ to do their bidding in the world.

HUNDREDS OF VITAL TOPICS NOW REVEALED FOR THE FIRST TIME!

Here are some of the intriguing topics you will find discussed within the pages of this all-important-historical-work:

- The founding of the Secret Order of the Illuminati (and for what purpose).
- Identification of global leaders involved in conspiracy to formulate a "New World Order" or "One World Government," and why they would want to do so.
- Actual power behind the rise of communism, as well as the eventual fall of the Red Empire worldwide.
- Was George Orwell secretly assassinated because he came close to exposing the truth?
- What is the possible connection between the mafia - the CIA - and the large oil companies?
- Many "front groups" exposed, including the International Working Man's League, and Masonic Lodges.
- What is behind the massive AIDS coverup?
- Identity of those who "run" the media and control "Hollywood" and what their motives are.
- The link between the Federal Reserve, the Council on Foreign Relations, the Trilateral Commission, the Bilderbergers and the Aspen Institute.
- Hitler's "negative" occult influences still alive today.
- Secret societies identified that go back as far as the Old Testament (many practiced human sacrifices).
- The "Eleven Committee" and the CHO CHIN CHING (number 666 identified).
- Formation of the secret cult of the Skull and Bones Society that several U.S. presidents have belonged to.
- Revelations concerning the "Beast" of Biblical prophecy.
- Jack the Ripper, a hired assassin?
- Use of "black helicopters" in keeping tabs on dissident citizens, including UFO witnesses and, especially, abductees.
- "Secret Police" to be deployed in U.S. and brought in from foreign countries to keep certain citizens in line.
- Activities of the "Brotherhood of Shadows" and the "Black Sorcerers."
- National Guard to be converted into National Police Force during national "emergency".
- Income tax illegal!
- Meaning behind the abolishment of the gold standard.

SPECIAL SECTION ON UFOS & ALIEN CONTACT

- Air Force pilots brainwashed and forced to train using dangerous psychotronic powers.
- Hidden intelligence war between CIA, the FBI and big business to develop free energy craft and secure safe New York planet in event of global disaster.
- Covert space program now being developed utilizing extraterrestrial technology.
- Martian and Lunar bases already established.

'I RAN OVER AN ANGEL FROM HEAVEN!'

HIGHWAY TO HEAVEN: Atlanta housewife Ida Moresley shows the dent she claims was caused by an angel.

By MIKE CARPENTER
Weekly World News

ATLANTA — A 41-year-old housewife recoiled in shock and disbelief when the woman she hit and "killed" while driving down a rural highway stood up, dusted herself off — and flew into Heaven!

Bible expert confirms her amazing story!

Ida Moresley is convinced that the accident "victim" was an angel. And while authorities decline to comment, a number of respected religious experts agree with her.

"I know it sounds crazy. I know people won't believe me. But what happened on that highway was a sign from God and a miracle from Heaven," said Mrs. Moresley.

"I'm not what you would call the most religious person in the world," she continued. "But after this, I know God is real. I know there is an afterlife. And I will never fear death again."

Mrs. Moresley reported the accident to police about 20 minutes after it occurred on the evening of June 12. Investigators confirm that the woman's Dodge Dart "has front-end damage that is consistent with a collision with a human being," but without a victim, "we can't really say what happened."

Mrs. Moresley herself says she hit the woman as she drove on a two-lane road just north of Atlanta.

"Suddenly she was standing on the road in front of me, as if she had appeared out of nowhere," she explained. "I didn't even have time to hit my brakes or swerve. I remember hearing a sickening crunch and I could actually feel my car running over the body.

"I stopped the car and jumped out as quickly as I could. I was sure I had killed her. She crumpled on the highway. I was scared. I didn't know what to do. But then, as God is my witness, she stood straight up, looked around and dusted herself off like nothing had happened.

"We made eye contact for a split second and — I really don't know how to describe this — a feeling of perfect peace and calm came over me.

"Just then, a pair of huge golden wings seemed to unfold behind her.

"The next thing I know she was rising straight up into the air. She didn't stop rising until she vanished from sight.

"At first I was too stunned to do anything but stand there minutes to recover. I was sure I had been in the presence of a real angel."

MINISTER Robert Carlon calls accident a mystery.

Several clergymen discussed the incident with Mrs. Moresley and they have concluded that she is telling the truth about the events she observed.

And yet, they have no explanation for them.

"Suffice it to say that the Lord works in mysterious ways," Baptist minister Robert Carlon said.

Mrs. Moresley added: "Everybody is talking about the End Times and the signs we can expect to see before the world comes to an end.

"Maybe this is one of those signs. I know that I'm a different person than I was just a few days ago. I'll never doubt God again."

Little Leaguer shot by mystery bullet!

SAN ANTONIO, Texas — An 8-year-old boy was awaiting his turn at bat in a Little League game when he was struck by a stray bullet and had to be rushed to the hospital.

David Fraga was hit in the abdomen while in the batter's on-deck circle.

"The other players thought he got hit by a baseball bat," said Sgt. A.T. Hubbard of the San Antonio Police. "He was complaining of pain to his right side."

Doctors said the bullet entered his abdomen and lodged in the boy's left hip.

Dear Curious in Lost Corner: It's really none of your business but if you must know, I'm a genius!

Dear Love-struck in Linden: You and 10 million other men. Get lost.

Dear Wondering in Plymouth: I don't care what your brother says. There's nothing cute about a man who walks around with his fly open!

Dear Stupid in Dayton: At least you admit it!

Dear Horrified Girl in Concord: I agree with you 100 percent. The bedroom is no place for a frog gig!

Dear Undecided in Oakford: If you don't like living in a small town, pinhead, get the hell out!

Dear Compromised in Ambia: You should have known your neighbor was up to no good when you found that microphone hidden in your bedroom!

Dear Robbed in Wedonia: That's what you get for flashing $100 bills in a honky-tonk!

Dear Dotti: I don't know where to turn. I'm about to marry a wonderful girl from a terrific family but she's got one big problem — and that's picking her nose.

This is totally humiliating, Dotti, but she just won't stop. What do you think I should I do? — Disgusted in New York

Dear Disgusted: There is an important but little-known organization in most major cities called Nose-Pickers Anonymous. Telephone your local chapter and one of the professionals there will see to it that your revolting bride-to-be gets all the help she needs to break this little "habit!"

My lazy sister makes me buy her gifts for Mom!

Dear Dotti: My sister and I live in different towns and every time our mother's birthday rolls around, she sends me a meager $25 and tells me to buy Mom a gift and put her name on it. She says she's too busy to go out and buy her own gifts, and needless to say, this really gets under my skin. Mom's birthday is coming up next month so I'll be getting a check soon. Help me, Dotti. What should I do? — Mad in Stanfield

Dear Mad: Buy the $25 gift and put YOUR name on it. Sis will be none the wiser and your mom will be absolutely livid with her for "forgetting" her birthday!

I wish you'd run for President and get us back on track!

Dear Dotti: Every time I pick up a Weekly World News and read your column I wonder why a brilliant woman like you is wasting her time writing an advice column. America needs you in Washington because you could make the hard decisions that are needed to get our country back on track. Please run for President, Dotti. You'd get my vote and millions more. I personally guarantee it! — Fan in Balto

Dear Fan: I'd be happy to run for office except for one little thing. Unlike professional politicians I don't know how to lie, cheat, and steal!

The man of my dreams is turning into a fruit!

Dear Dotti: Before my husband and I got married he was one hell of a man but ever since we tied the knot, he's started to act like a girl. His mannerisms are extremely effeminate and he often speaks with a lisp. The other day I caught him in my closet trying on dresses. What's going on, Dotti? Did I marry a fruit? — Concerned in Blackstone

Dear Concerned: Yes!

Dotti, your stupid advice isn't worth two cents!

Dear Dotti: You are an ignorant, stubborn, pinheaded, bonebrained, stupid slut. Please find two pennies enclosed with my letter. That's all your advice is worth! — Angry in Detroit

Dear Angry: I hate to tell you this, buthead, but one of those coins you sent was a 1943 COPPER penny worth $12,000. That little sum is a nice addition to my nest egg. Thanks a million.

Los Angeles-based Dotti will answer your letters — and tell it like it is. Write to her, c/o Weekly World News, 600 S. East Coast Ave., Lantana, Fla. 33462. We'll forward your letters to her.

Ask Serena

Did my great-grandma have a fling with Abe Lincoln?

Dear Serena: I am a very old man and I have a question I've wondered about all my life. We've always had a big secret in our family that my great-grandmother had an affair with Abraham Lincoln — while he was President!

I've heard this rumor since I was a little boy but I've never known whether to believe it. It could be possible — my great-grandmother was 32 when I was born in 1911, so that means she was in her 30s when Lincoln was in the White House. Of course, everyone in my family who would know the truth has been dead for many years. So you're my only hope. Did my great-grandmother really have an affair with Abraham Lincoln? — Curious in Richmond

Dear Curious: Your great-grandmother actually had an affair with him. Abe was a very flirty gentleman, but nothing ever happened. Over the years the great-grandmother had a tendency to do.

Dear Serena: How fat will I be when I grow up? My mom, dad and older brother are all thin so I figure I can eat all I want and never gain weight. But I'm the biggest girl in my sixth-grade class and Mom is bugging me about losing weight. Will I be thin when I get older? — Worried in Shreveport

Dear Worried: If you continue eating like you do now you'll be very, very heavy, just like your mother's sister.

I've been offered a job in Hong Kong and I think I'll probably take it. But I've been dating the same girl for three years and she won't go to Hong Kong to live with me. I don't want to leave this girl but I'm not ready to marry her. What should I do? — Undecided in Albany

Dear Undecided: If you move to Hong Kong you will marry a local girl from over there and have a happy life with her. But don't expect to ever see your current girlfriend again if you leave now.

Cop in hot water for threatening judge during traffic jam!

ROLLING MEADOWS, Ill. — An off-duty cop turned a traffic jam into a legal jam when he threatened to beat up another driver — who turned out to be an Associate Circuit Court Judge!

Michael Moreci pleaded guilty to assault and faces a fine of $500 after Judge Sam Amirante reported that Moreci had threatened him.

"I beat up guys like you for a living," Moreci yelled, according to reports. "Get out of the car and I'll leave you bloody in the street."

Moreci will keep his job as Corrections Officer while the incident is being investigated.

MAN'S SEVERED EAR ATTACHED TO HIS TUMMY!

CHICAGO — Mark Webb isn't hearing as well as he used too — but that may be because his right ear is attached to his abdomen!

The 42-year-old man got into a fight with a former employee and had his ear bitten off in the dustup. Doctors decided to keep the ear in good condition while they readied the wound for reattachment surgery. So they implanted it in a "pocket" between layers of skin and muscle in his abdomen.

"It's sort of like banking it," said Dr. Larry Zachary, a surgeon at the University of Chicago Hospitals. "We're banking the cartilage in this pocket so that it doesn't die. It's a temporary home."

Six babies born without brains!

SAN ANTONIO, Texas — Researchers are trying to find out why six babies have been born without brains this year along the heavily polluted U.S.-Mexico border.

The bizarre births occurred in Eagle Pass, Texas, and Piedras Negras, Mexico.

Editor's note:

Three years ago Weekly World News brought you the chilling story of Laura Thorpe, a courageous New Mexico woman who sliced herself open with a razor blade and removed her own breast implants after her insurance company refused to pay for the operation.

Laura told NEWS readers how the silicone that leaked from her faulty implants had caused agonizing health problems so severe she feared for her life. In desperation, she cut the implants out, hoping to put an end to her illness and pain.

Did it work? Here, in another exclusive interview, Laura brings us up to date...

The desperate mom says she knew in 1992 that her implants were making her deathly ill, but insurance companies refused to pay for an operation to remove them. So she went into her bathroom late one night while her husband and three kids were sleeping and cut the rotting silicone pouches out of her body.

Her courageous act made Linda, 42, a national celebrity, and the ailing mom was featured on TV talk shows and in newspaper articles everywhere. For a while her health seemed to improve — but only for a while. In the last year or so, she says, she has gone steadily downhill.

"The doctors have told me there's nothing they can do for me," says discouraged Laura, who is off work and on Medicare because of her failing health. "But I'm determined to spread the word about the dangers of these implants and to make sure the people responsible don't just walk away from it.

"I have blood clots all through my system, even clots in my lungs. The doctors say that if one goes to my heart, it could kill me. A few weeks ago it happened and I almost died. I told them if it happens again, I'm so tired of living this way that I don't want to be resuscitated."

IS 5-YEAR-OLD BOY REINCARNATION OF ADOLF HITLER?

By MARIA VERGENA / Weekly World News

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina — A 5-year-old boy has become the center of attention here after an expert revealed he believes the child is the reincarnation of a dead man: World War II Nazi leader Adolf Hitler!

Dr. Miguel Devierros says little Gilberto Tenerro mysteriously began to speak fluent German two years ago — even though his family speaks only Spanish.

He can recite Hitler's most famous speeches, has an uncanny knowledge of the German leader's life and often asks for Hitler's girlfriend Eva Braun, he said.

"There's absolutely no explanation for this," said Dr. Devierros, who teaches European history at the University of Buenos Aires. "The child knows details about German history that were known to only the closest associates of Hitler. He speaks German with the exact accent that Hitler used.

"It's unrealistic to think that the child's parents, who have only an elementary school education, gave him a crash course in German or coached him in German history. Yet I've shown him pictures of Hitler's staff and he can identify them, every one. He tells stories about them, for heaven's sake. He knows intimate things about these people no outsider has ever known."

Devierros says the boy came to his attention when a newspaper article appeared on Gilberto's mysterious ability to speak German. He contacted the boy's parents, Raymondo and Isabela Tenerro, and asked to meet the little boy.

After his interviews with the kindergartner and his parents, he decided there was no scientific explanation for the tyke's knowledge of Germany and German history. He came to the conclusion that only reincarnation could account for the bizarre phenomenon.

"I am so certain that I am dealing with the reincarnated spirit of Hitler that I have begun tape-recording my interviews with the child," Dr. Devierros said.

MURDERER MUST PUT UP PHOTOS OF VICTIMS — IN HIS PRISON CELL!

By R. NEALE LIND / Weekly World News

GOLDEN, Colo. — Cold-blooded killer Christopher Harris will never forget the faces of the men he killed — because a judge has ordered him to keep their family photos in his prison cell where he'll have to look at them every day for the rest of his life!

KILLER. Christopher Harris, right, has a constant reminder of the lives he ended.

Harris, 24, is serving life without parole for the vicious murders of Steve Campbell and Andre Nelson, employees of the EZ Pawn Shop in nearby Wheat Ridge. Harris shot them to death during a botched robbery attempt. A store surveillance camera captured the entire incident on tape.

Harris also shot another employee, Fred Meyer, twice in the face. But Meyer survived.

In addition to the victim's photos, Harris has been ordered to keep the court transcripts of his trial in his cell, along with the surveillance video of the killings — the very videotape that helped convict him.

"During the sentencing hearing, the victims' families were given a chance to speak," said Chief Deputy District Attorney Peter Weir. "There were 11 of them there. Judy Schweitzer, mother of Steve Campbell's wife, suggested putting the reminders of Harris' crime in the cell with him.

"She pointed out that the victims' families will have to live with the memory of their dead loved ones for the rest of their lives.

"She felt it was only fitting that the man who destroyed their lives should also be reminded, daily, of what he's done," Weir said.

District Judge Kenneth Barnhill agreed.

He ordered the photos, Harris will never be a free man.

Weir said Harris has expressed no remorse about the lives he took.

"The judge can't legally force him to watch the video," Weir told Weekly World News.

"But living day in and day out with the tape and those pictures will at least ensure that he'll never forget why he's where he is."

Mystery virus causing victims to laugh themselves to death!

By RANDY JEFFRIES / Weekly World News

KITWE, Zambia — Researchers have discovered another killer disease — an infection that attacks the central nervous system and brain centers, causing victims to literally laugh themselves to death!

The bizarre illness, known as Zbuma-2, was first reported in a tiny village just south of here on June 17. Since then, three more African villages have been struck — the last one located a mere 25 miles from the border of Zaire, where the deadly Ebola virus recently killed more than 180 people.

"Zbuma-2 causes a painful, torturous death," said noted Australian immunologist Dr. Alec Kiley whose team of experts was flown in to study the outbreak.

"The microscopic organisms over-stimulate the brain and nerve endings, creating a sensation similar to being tickled. But the feeling is far more intense. And it's unrelenting. The convulsive laughter causes victims to injure ribs, rupture veins and stress the heart, lungs and other bodily organs.

"Eventually, unable to breathe, they lose consciousness and pass out. But even then the laughter continues until they suffocate. By then most of them have been driven mad by the disease."

Dr. Kiley says the possibility exists that Zbuma-2 has escaped the quarantine zones erected to contain it. There's even a small chance that it has reached America.

"It's an airborne virus that is breathed into the system," says Dr. Kiley, 45. "It incubates five days, then attacks without warning."

He urges Americans to remain calm, but gives these early symptoms:

- Frequent smiling for no apparent reason.
- Laughter at inappropriate times.
- An itchy "tickling" sensation in the body followed by short bursts of uncontrollable giggling.

Pledge of Allegiance lands Scouts in hot water!

BEDFORD, Va. — Six Girl Scouts landed in hot water when they traveled to Washington, D.C., to recite the Pledge of Allegiance in front of the Jefferson Memorial — and were stopped by a guard for not having a permit!

The girls were commemorating their graduation to the next level of scouting, when a guard stopped them for holding a demonstration without a permit, which is a violation of federal law.

The girls returned home without completing their ceremony.

Expect to be showered with praise this week for a job well done. Someone may reward you with a nice present or a sum of money.

Use the extra cash to start that nest egg you've been thinking about.

You may find your mate impossible to deal with in the middle of the week. Seek solace from friends. By the weekend, tempers have calmed and all is well on the home front.

TAURUS
Apr. 20 – May 20

You're seeking personal recognition as well as financial rewards and that's great. But watch out — someone is watching, and feels threatened by your ambitions. Maintain a low profile this week.

Keep a sharp lookout for a special sign from a loving mate.

Remember, statistics show that most accidents happen within a few miles of home, so drive carefully.

GEMINI

You may feel overwhelmed by personal problems this week.

But you're a tough fighter, a survivor who can handle almost any situation, no matter how touchy — so settle down. The situation won't last too long.

Your presently gloomy financial picture will brighten when an unexpected dividend or bonus comes to lift your sagging spirits.

CANCER
June 21 – July 22

Be prepared for a romantic disappointment this week — a bang-up quarrel or a break with a longtime partner.

Don't give in to the blues. Brighten your surroundings and fill your days with activities that make you happy. Call on friends or relatives for help if you need it.

A relative has a plan that could make you rich. Go for it!

LEO
July 23 – Aug. 22

Be prepared — some great opportunities or changes of fortune lie in wait for you this week.

One could bring a better place to live, but be careful of anything that seems too good to be true.

Household chores and home maintenance keep you busy over the weekend, but you still find time for romance — perhaps with a new partner — and fun.

VIRGO
Aug. 23 – Sept. 22

Budget woes occupy your time this week and you may have difficulty making financial decisions with your mate.

Some aspect of your life takes a serious turn now. You feel in control, and rightly so. Those around you are impressed.

Weekend travel or a new acquaintance prove exciting and lead the way to adventure.

LIBRA
Sept. 23 – Oct. 22

A great week is in store for lucky you.

You move from project to project, easily accomplishing your goals.

Scheduled weekend plans for entertaining on a grand scale go off without a hitch.

Later, you and your true love have a romantic get-together, an intimate candlelit dinner for two, in your "special" place.

SCORPIO
Oct. 23 – Nov. 21

You win praise this week for handling a sticky situation with grace and dignity. Brava!

Recurring bouts of anxiety and jittery nerves could be caused by too much coffee. Cut back on the java when the symptoms appear.

Weekend chores get done in record time.

A bargain found at a sidewalk sale makes your day.

SAGITTARIUS
Nov. 22 – Dec. 21

Good financial news buoys your spirits early this week. Expect more happy news over the telephone — but also be prepared for a letter that will disturb your peace of mind temporarily.

Spending a day with old friends brings back happy memories.

Your beloved makes a delightful suggestion for a special evening and you have a very romantic time.

CAPRICORN
Dec. 22 – Jan. 19

You seem to have everything under control and you're feeling energetic this week. Your self-confidence and positive attitude are at an all-time high.

Most of your friends want to share your effervescent enthusiasm, but expect one of them to seek your financial advice.

A phone call late in the week will lead to a moneymaking opportunity.

AQUARIUS
Jan. 20 – Feb. 18

You could make real progress in personal and financial affairs this week with the aid of some secret luck.

Creativity is high, and you should probably approach your partner with those innovative ideas you have for improving your life.

You could be vulnerable to health problems just now. Take precautions by eating and sleeping well.

PISCES
Feb. 19 – Mar. 20

Your lucky number this week is 28, and it could pay off in a big way, if you're willing to take a chance.

An innocent but suspicious-looking situation with a friend could make your mate jealous, so be careful.

Charm works sometimes, but honesty never fails.

Matrimony may be in the immediate future for singles.

If your birthday is this week...

Mon., July 17 – Sun., July 23

The down period you've been stuck in will suddenly let up. You'll have plenty of good times but take care and watch your health. Burning the candle at both ends can be disastrous.

Coincidence will play a major part in your life this week. Things will start falling into place as if a personal watchdog is directing it all just for you.

A close friend or loved one will have a narrow escape in late October. You will play a major role in keeping them safe.

Male gynecologist reveals . . .

WHY WOMEN SHOULD GO TO FEMALE DOCS

Every woman should choose her gynecologist carefully, and whenever possible pick a female doctor, declares a leading male physician.

"A woman will always be better off choosing the woman doctor," declared Dr. John Smith, a gynecologist for 20 years and author of the book Women and Doctors.

By JENNIFER BROOKES
Weekly World News

Dr. Smith believes most male obstetricians and gynecologists treat women like sex objects and are insensitive to their problems.

"They view them as less competent than men, as people to protect and make decisions for," blasted Dr. Smith.

This arrogance and impatience often cause male doctors to interfere unnecessarily with a woman's pregnancy, says Dr. Smith, founder of a 100,000-member HMO.

He accuses his "fellow" doctors of doing too many cesarean sections, using forceps to deliver babies when they shouldn't and inducing labor early just because they're in a hurry. But even more shocking is the sexist way he says many male gynecologists treat their women patients.

"I've seen gynecologists walk into the operating room where another doctor's patient was already asleep for surgery, lift up her surgical sheet, admire her breasts and continue their conversation with colleagues without a pause," revealed Dr. Smith.

He says women gynecologists are just more sensitive and have a better understanding of their patients' sexuality and problems.

"As a male doctor, I don't know what it's like to experience a menstrual period or have a yeast infection," declared Dr. Smith. "But women doctors have had these experiences so there's a natural, built-in compassion for their patients."

Unfortunately there are few women gynecologists, says Dr. Smith. Eighty percent of all board-certified gynecologists are men.

To find a good gynecologist or obstetrician of either sex, Dr. Smith suggests you follow these guidelines:

• Get a referral — Ask a family doctor you trust to give you the name of a good obstetrician or gynecologist.

• Demand a conference — Meet the gynecologist in his office to discuss your medical history and concerns BEFORE he examines you.

• Be skeptical — Listen carefully and ask questions about treatments and procedures. Don't accept anything at face value.

• Follow your instincts — If you think your doctor's behavior is inappropriate, look for another doctor.

'Fatal Attraction' really IS a disease!

DEADLY INFATUATION: In the hit movie Fatal Attraction, Glenn Close, left, plays a woman whose obsession for a married man, Michael Douglas, right, drives her to extreme violence.

By GREG WILLIAMS / Weekly World News

There really is a Fatal Attraction type of love — and it's a deadly, devastating disease that can trigger violence, says an expert.

The condition affects mostly women. In a typical case, a woman will construct an imaginary love affair with a man who doesn't return her love — and sometimes isn't even aware she exists.

The lover persists and refuses to believe the man doesn't really love her, said Dr. David Enoch, an internationally known psychiatrist.

"As she pursues her beloved, her behavior grows increasingly outlandish. The object of her passion is bombarded with letters, incessant phone calls, visits to his work or home, arguments with his wife if he has one, and announcements to his children that Daddy is going away with her."

The bizarre illness inflicts an enormous amount of distress on everyone involved, Dr. Enoch said.

In one recent case a woman slashed the face of a British TV star's wife and declared he was running off with her — when in fact, the star had no idea the woman even existed, Dr. Enoch said.

Another woman arranged an entire wedding banquet and invited guests to help celebrate her nuptials — but her intended groom didn't even know her.

And a woman in Bristol, England, actually sent a chauffeured car to pick up her "beloved" and bring him to their "wedding"!

"In another case, two sisters in Manchester, England, suffered from the illness at the same time and shared the delusion of having a love affair with their next-door neighbor," said Dr. Enoch, who describes the condition in his book, Uncommon Psychiatric Syndromes.

"The sisters persecuted the man so mercilessly that he took them to court and they were sent to prison."

Usually the condition suddenly explodes full-blown in people after age 30 and can go on for years, Dr. Enoch said. Treatment is very difficult. It includes antipsychotic drugs and intense psychotherapy.

"The sufferers may be perfectly normal in all other respects. They are quite sensible, hold down jobs and live otherwise normal lives. But the syndrome brings them enormous anguish — plunging them into a living hell."

Some men worship rank, some worship heroes, some worship power, some worship God, and over these ideals they dispute — but they all worship money.

Toddler's prank saves 35 classmates from car crash!

MARQUETTE PARK, Ill. — A naughty little boy went from hellion to hero when he playfully set off a fire alarm and emptied a nursery school — minutes before an out-of-control car plowed into it.

A Buick smashed through a play kitchen set and came to rest against lockers of several children.

Had it not been for the fire alarm, those preschoolers would have been stashing sweaters and jewelry in those lockers before their afternoon nap.

"God was surely looking out for those innocent little kids," said a cop.

A few minutes earlier 2-year-old Kolby Grinston and 35 other toddlers had just finished their soup and sandwiches in a rear playroom at the Kiddie Kove Nursery School here.

Most kids headed to the bathroom, but little Kolby wandered toward the front door where a fire alarm was guess he saw that thing, so he pulled it," said Kiddie Kove cook Mary Verniere.

When the alarm rang, the 2- and 3-year-olds scurried out the back door and the 4- and 5-year-olds went out the front door — just as they had practiced in fire drills.

At about the same time, a car driven by Anthony Santaras, 84, ran a stop sign and rammed a Buick, sending it plowing into the front of the nursery school.

Santaras was hospitalized with head injuries, but

HOW TO COLLECT $$$ FROM UNCLE SAM

Cash In On Government Giveaway Programs

A NEW BOOK WRITTEN BY A former Federal investigator tells how every American can collect their share of the $250 billion that will be handed out this year by Uncle Sam. The book explains how to collect social security before retirement, small business loans, income supplements, education benefits, farm loans, unemployment, job training, even welfare and food stamps. Here are just a few facts covered:

- How 39 million Americans collect monthly benefit checks from one program alone.
- How almost 3 million children get monthly benefit checks.
- How eligible couples collect up to $1100 a month to supplement the family income.
- How to qualify for disability pensions (over 3.5 million collecting but thousands more eligible).
- How to know when to quit work and start collecting monthly retirement benefits.
- How you may be cheating yourself out of cash benefits rightfully due you.
- How to collect unemployment benefits even if you quit your job or were fired.
- How to get free legal assistance.
- How to get a good-paying Federal job.
- How to get a $500,000 loan to start your own business. (It's simple and the book tells you exactly how to do it).
- How to collect a $250,000 loan to buy a farm or ranch, including livestock and equipment.
- How to collect a $27,000 loan for a mobile home, including lot.
- How to collect a $15,000 loan for home improvements.
- How to collect over $400 a month to attend college, trade school or get on-the-job training.
- How to get free medical coverage, including eye glasses and dental care.
- How to collect hundreds of dollars a month to pay your apartment rent, including utilities.
- How to get up to a $100,000 small business loan, even if you are poor and unemployed.
- How to obtain thousands of dollars in free Federal services.

With the help of this book, many families are now living more comfortably.

Although the book How To Collect Big Dollars From Uncle Sam could mean thousands of dollars to you, it is being offered at only $12.95 (plus $3 postage & handling).

8 ways to cope with a workaholic mate!

THE INCURABLE WORKAHOLIC typically puts in long overtime hours at the office and even goes in on weekends.

Many people are miserable because they're married to incurable workaholics. But there are some excellent no-sweat strategies for coping with a workaholic mate, says a university expert.

By JANET DWYER
Weekly World News

"Typically, the workaholic is working long hours overtime at the office and even going in on weekends," explained Dr. Gary Emery.

"The mate feels neglected and left out of the other's life."

This can torpedo a relationship, warns Dr. Emery — who gave the following tips for Weekly World News readers who have workaholic mates.

- Realize you can't change the workaholic. It's part of their psychological makeup to devote themselves to work.
- Don't interpret their concentration on work as a sign they don't love you.
- Focus on the positive side of workaholism. It generally means your family is enjoying a higher standard of living — plus, your spouse isn't out gambling, drinking or carousing!
- Try to involve yourself in your mate's work. Read and learn as much about it as possible — that way the two of you will have more to talk about.
- Encourage your mate to take an occasional vacation without bringing work along.
- Develop your own interests and hobbies, rather than waiting for your mate to share time with you. Join a club or take part in volunteer activities.
- Make a deal that you won't interrupt the workaholic's work if your mate agrees to share a certain amount of time with you, such as making a specific date for dinner or a movie.
- Finally, never issue an ultimatum that the workaholic must choose between you and work — you may lose out!

Cruel mom spins toddler in clothes dryer for punishment!

LINKOPING, Sweden — Cruel mom Inga Heder, 31, punished her little boy for being naughty — by putting him in a clothes dryer and spinning him around for a minute or two!

The terrified 3-year-old became so hysterical, police said, that relatives heard the commotion and called authorities. Inga was convicted of child abuse and jailed for two years.

Creator of sex omelet does it again!

Fruit juice cocktail turns husbands into red-hot lovers

HAPPY wife Sandy Kalton has good reason to smile. She is the creator of the famous sex omelet. Now, she claims her new joy juice has turned her hubby, Tony, into a love-crazed tiger.

BREAKFAST FOR LOVERS

Caterer Sandy Kalton caused a sensation when she invented a foolproof love food she dubbed the "sex omelet." Now she's invented an even more powerful sex stimulant to wash the breakfast food down with — a magic potion she calls "joy juice."

By TANYA BRODER
Weekly World News

The pretty Savannah, Ga., gourmet cook says her delicious omelet and drink contain ingredients designed to make men red-hot and ready just minutes after consuming them.

And she swears her unique recipes have worked wonders on every guy who's tried them.

"My husband Tony goes nuts every time I serve him a sex omelet — and now with the added jolt of joy juice he's like a tiger for the rest of the day," Sandy says proudly. My friends have begged me for the recipes and every one of them say that the foods revved up their man's sex drive like crazy."

Sandy invented her delectable sex omelet one Sunday morning in 1991 while trying to cheer her husband up when he was feeling a little depressed. She decided to make a sweet treat that was nourishing and delicious — and throw in a few known sex stimulants as well.

"Foods like cinnamon, ginger, pumpkin seeds and honey contain chemicals that act on men's testosterone levels," says Sandy, a trained nutritionist. "The zinc in pumpkin seeds, for example, goes directly to the prostate gland which contains 10 times the amount of zinc found in most other organs of the body.

"I put these ingredients in my omelet, hoping it would perk Tony up.

"About a half hour after he finished it, he felt more romantic than he'd felt in months. I was stunned at the effect it had on his sex drive.

"We've been so happy with the omelet through the years that I decided to go one better and mix up a super-juice to go with it. That worked even better than the omelet!"

Sandy passed on her recipe for the sex omelet to Weekly World News readers several years ago. For those readers who didn't jot it down then, we repeat it here — and pass along her new joy juice recipe as well.

Sandy's Joy Juice

½ cup orange or passion fruit juice
½ cup prune juice
1 tbsp. powdered brewer's yeast
½ tsp. cinnamon

Mix ingredients in a blender, chill overnight and serve as a breakfast drink.

Sandy's Passion Omelet

2 eggs
1 tbsp. water
1 tbsp. raw honey
½ tsp. powdered ginger
½ tsp. cinnamon
2 tbsp. ground toasted pumpkin seeds
½ tbsp. butter
pinch powdered sugar

Beat eggs in a bowl with water. Add all ingredients except butter and powdered sugar, mix thoroughly. Heat omelet pan or non-stick skillet over high flame, add butter and when butter stops foaming, lower flame and pour in egg mixture. As omelet cooks, lift edges and pour liquid portion into skillet until egg is

Firemen rescue boozer stuck in bucket!

HAMBURG, Germany — Beer-guzzling Gerhard Weisler, 34, had all the suds he could handle when he toppled off his barstool — and got his head stuck so tight in a bucket of soapy water that he couldn't get it off!

Fellow patrons at the Blue Duck tavern tried in vain to yank the bucket off Gerhard's head, then gave up and called the fire department.

"When we walked in, the poor man was sitting on the floor with a bucket on his head while everyone around him was drinking and chatting like nothing was going on," said Fireman Kurt Breide.

"Luckily, the victim was well-anesthetized and didn't seem to mind all the commotion as we cut the thing off his head.

"By the time we left, he was already back at bar, pouring them down like nothing had happened."

Escaped convict captured when he hitches ride with the warden!

An escaped convict who hitched a ride with a passing car thought he was on the road to freedom — until he realized the prison warden was driving the car!

Unlucky prisoner Hurbert Schurr had run about two miles from the prison when he decided to start thumbing and ended up in the wrong car.

After a brief scuffle, Warden Gerhard Stroh handcuffed Schurr and took him back to his cell in Hamburg, Germany.

HOLE IN ONE!

Golfer's baaaaaaad shot sticks in sheep's rear end!

By JACK ALEXANDER / Weekly World News

PORTHCAWL, England — It was the most incredible hole-in-one ever when golfer Peter Croke hooked his tee shot into a pasture — and straight up a sheep's rear end.

The unsuspecting animal was quietly munching grass adjacent to the 17th fairway at Southerndown Golf Club when Croke fluffed his drive.

The ball was never more than 18 inches in the air as it shot toward the pasture and scored a bulls-eye in the startled sheep. Croke, 47, and his golfing partner, John Maher, doubled up with laughter when they saw where the ball went. But it wasn't a bit funny to the frightened sheep.

"She stopped munching grass and ran like she'd been shot," Croke said.

As the beast took off unharmed, the ball dropped out on a foot path 30 yards closer to the 17th green.

Croke, a deputy headmaster from Cowbridge, swears he and Maher aren't "trying to pull the wool over anyone's eyes." It really happened, they say.

He was two up on Maher with two holes to go when the sheep came into play. Croke checked the rules and learned he could play the ball were it dropped because the sheep was in bounds at the time. There was no penalty.

Croke shot a five on the 17th and won the match by a stroke, but he was quick to give the sheep part of the credit.

"No doubt about it, the sheep helped me win," he said.

"Of course, it would have been better if the animal had walked up to the pin and dropped the ball in the cup."

SHEEP that graze near the Southerndown Golf Club are living in fear after one of the animals had a nightmarish experience.

How to raise happy kids — no matter what your situation!

Dr. Billy Graham

By DR. BILLY GRAHAM

DR. BILLY GRAHAM EXCLUSIVE!

"I'd like to know what guidelines you would give for raising children. My husband and I are about to have our first child, and I think about child-rearing a lot when I see some of the problems other families seem to have."

I have honestly hesitated to answer your question in this brief space because there is so much that could be said about this topic.

But let me suggest three general guidelines that may help you get started in your thinking. First, surround your child with love.

I know that sounds simple, but it's easy to forget sometimes. For example, some parents, in their zeal to have their child behave better, will constantly criticize.

A child who is hammered with criticism grows up feeling he is not worth very much.

Love your child, and don't be afraid to express that love — even when it is difficult or when your child has done something wrong. Be quick to praise.

Second, have clear guidelines about behavior. The other day I heard a leading psychiatrist say that we need more discipline today, and I agree.

We should discipline not out of anger, but out of love, knowing that a child needs to learn he is responsible for his actions. Don't change the rules all the time either, or threaten punishment and then not carry it out.

Third, and most important of all, make it your priority to help your child spiritually. Pray with him, and pray for him, consistently.

We do all we can to protect our children from physical harm. In the same way, do all you can do to help him spiritually.

"My husband left me and my small daughter several years ago. It is very hard being a single parent. Do you have any suggestions to help me?"

There is no magic formula that will take away all the problems of being a single parent. In the best of situations, I am sure it is still a difficult task. But think of it as a challenge you can meet with God's help.

First, realize that you can never do this job completely by yourself — you need God's help. He can give you wisdom as you look to Him and seek to do His will.

Let your life also be an example to your daughter. Surround her with love and do all you can to minimize the insecurity she may feel because of the lack of a father.

A child must have a male role model. It may be a brother, an uncle, a grandfather or a pastor who can help fill the vacuum left by an absent father.

Although I know you may be faced with heavy financial pressures, I hope you won't let those pressures preoccupy you and keep you from spending as much time as possible with your daughter.

Don't be overly protective, but establish reasonable rules and discipline in your home.

Then don't be afraid to ask for help from other people. If you are not active in a church I hope you will find one where Christ is preached and one which has an active program.

You may be surprised to find others there who have a similar background, and they can help you learn to live as a single parent.

BEING MARRIED TO THE WRONG PERSON CAN RUIN YOUR HEALTH!

Being married to the wrong person can put you in an early grave, a revealing new study shows!

Researchers used blood tests to measure the disease resistance of 38 married women — and found that those in unhappy marriages had dangerously depressed immune systems.

"The immune systems of the unhappily married were significantly impaired compared to the immune systems of the happily married," declared Dr. Stanley Platman.

"When the immune system is depressed, people are at a greater risk of contracting a ... the unhappily married women were more depressed psychologically, and had lower levels of white cells and antibodies needed to fight off infections.

"This is the first time anyone has examined the physiological consequences of living with someone you don't care for," said Dr. Platman.

"Now we have scientific evidence that being married to the 'wrong' person can also be dam-

Land any job

You can land the job of your dreams with secret "word tips" from a leading business expert.

"Believe it or not, vague words and phrases on your resume can spell failure at getting the job you want," warns top personnel recruiter Robert Half. "They may warn an employer that you are grossly exaggerating."

phrases to avoid — and suggestions for replacements that can help you get the job you want:

1. "Familiar with": If you are applying for a computer position, for example, and claim to be "familiar with" eight types of software, you may actually be able to use two of these and just have seen the other six in use, said Half.

HOW TO TURN ANY FAILURE INTO AN INSTANT SUCCESS!

How to tell everything about a man by the way he wears his hair!

You can tell everything about a man by the way he cuts his hair, say experts.

Here are the most common men's styles and what each reveals:

LONG HAIR: Men who wear hair over their collars have an independent streak and fun-loving nature that makes them welcome wherever they go. They express feelings openly and sincerely.

SHORT HAIR: Warmhearted and dependable, these men are the first people to turn to when you need advice, reassurance and guidance. The ability to organize is one of their strengths, and they're very efficient.

BLOW-DRIED LOOK: These guys tend to be carefree, optimistic and imaginative. They have a tremendous capacity for winning friends and influencing people, and they like to keep fit.

WET LOOK: Guys who keep their hair slicked down with a careful part are saying that self-image is very important to them. These men are perfectionists and seldom get ruffled.

CURLY HAIR: Men who enjoy the "curly look" are self-confident, know their own capabilities and have a loving nature. These guys are level-headed — but often can be playful.

PUNK STYLE: High-spirited and very adventurous, these men have a happy-go-lucky attitude toward life.

SHAVED HEAD: Men who intentionally go for the bald look have wonderful senses of humor and creative minds. They seldom fly off the handle, are financially conservative and stick to their beliefs no matter what!

HAIRPIECE: Men who wear rugs are unusually sensitive, thoughtful and kind — and seldom forget a birthday or anniversary. They are the first to offer help to a friend in need and make great husbands and fathers.

You can learn to roll with life's punches and turn your failures into instant successes by following a few commonsense suggestions, experts say.

"When handed lemons in life, some people complain about bitterness — while others rush to their kitchens to make lemonade," one psychologist says.

Here are some tips for turning failure into instant success:

● Develop a healthy self-image. Take small steps in a new self-improvement project in which you'll probably be successful.

As you increase your number of successes, your image of yourself will grow. With more self-confidence, you'll realize you're capable of handling setbacks and turning them into victories. And if you believe you can do that, you most certainly will.

● Be realistic. Many people think life is supposed to be one long beach party. Then when life does throw a Sunday punch, it takes the wind out of them. Remember, some rain falls in every life. It's the way you mop up afterward that counts.

● Have a flexible timetable for meeting your goals. Just because your parents owned their own home before they were 30 doesn't mean you'll be able to own a home at that age, too. Your personal goals should only be guidelines for things you want, not strict schedules.

● Be independent. For example, every married woman should learn all she can about running the family's finances in case something happens to her husband. Housewives should also develop some job skill they can use in case they have to go to work. Similarly, men should learn more about child care and taking care of a home.

"When you develop a roll-with-the-punches attitude," one expert said, "you'll find you have the skill and confidence to bounce back from any defeat — and turn it into an instant success."

Bossy women end up depressed and alone, say psychologists

Bossy women may act like the world is their oyster but sooner or later most of them wind up depressed — and totally alone!

So say experts who conducted landmark studies of women and men who were dating and found that couples anchored by aggressive, competitive women almost always break up — while those with easygoing women almost always find happiness in a loving marriage!

"The findings were remarkable," said one psychologist. After six months, he continued, 87 percent of the couples with an easy-going woman were married, engaged or still dating seriously.

Only 9 percent of the couples with aggressive females were still involved in an intimate relationship. "It didn't matter if the male was assertive, only if the female was," said the expert. "With more assertive women, males often feel threatened and uncomfortable. This adds a lot of stress to the relationship, and makes a breakup more likely. However, when the female lets the male take the initiative, she fills the traditional role."

Added another psychologist: "I can say that women with aggressive personalities are less likely to get married and more likely to wind up depressed and lonely. If they do get married, they're more likely to end up divorced or have an unhappy marriage."

Why some women are allergic to sex

Some women are allergic to love!

But the condition has nothing to do with emotions. It's a real medical problem known as seminal fluid hypersensitivity — and it can cause women physical pain during lovemaking.

"The women are actually allergic to seminal fluid," explained allergy expert Dr. Roger Katz. Common symptoms of the ailment include pain or itching during the act of love.

In severe cases, women can break out in hives; experience lowered blood pressure, shortness of breath, wheezing, dizziness — and in extreme cases go into shock, which can be life threatening.

Although the allergy is considered rare, there are no statistics pinpointing the number of cases and its origin is unknown.

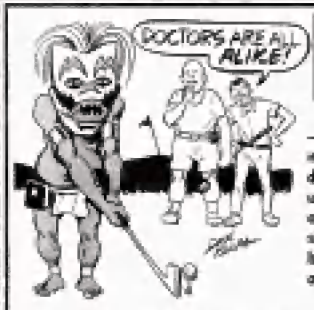
"Obviously this can be devastating to a marriage or relationship," said I. Leonard Bernstein.

Dr. Bernstein advised women experiencing symptoms of the allergy to contact their physician or gynecologist who can direct them further. But he noted that he's found great success treating the allergy with a method he developed. "What we do is take a sample of the male's seminal fluid and divide it into its protein components," said Dr. Bernstein. "Then we use both skin and blood tests to determine which of the components the woman is allergic to."

Once that is determined, up to 20 injections of that protein component are injected into the woman — one every 15 to 20 minutes — and she becomes desensitized to it.

"To determine that, we ask her to make love and then record her reactions," said Dr. Bernstein.

"Thus far in treating 10 patients in this way, all 10 have been cured."



Even witch doctors love to play golf

CAPE TOWN, South Africa — British and American businessmen recoiled in shock and disbelief when they showed up to play a game of golf at one of the area's most exclusive country clubs — and bumped into a witch doctor on the first tee!

"It just goes to show that physicians everywhere are all alike," said Richard O'Conner, of London. "At the drop of a hat they're out of the office and on the links for a round of golf!"

MEN ARE MORE LOVING AT 7 A.M.

Men are at their sexual peak at 7:00 a.m., according to Men's Health magazine.

If life gets a little rough around the edges, don't complain; consider that we do not reject roses because they have a few thorns.

GET THE MOST OUT OF LIFE — WITH POSITIVE THINKING!

A positive attitude can help you get the most out of life — and you can develop an upbeat outlook by following these easy tips from an expert.

Tape a note to your bathroom mirror. It's the first step toward changing your attitude.

Make your note a short inspirational message like: "It's great to be alive." While you're in the bathroom, repeat the message over and over. "It will remind you of your commitment to develop a positive attitude," said psychologist W. Beryl West.

Practice smiling everyday. "Smile at your bathroom mirror every morning for a minute or so. At the beginning, your smile may look forced. But the more you practice, the more you'll feel like smiling."

Smiling at other people makes them feel good, too — and one of the best ways to develop a positive attitude is to make others feel good.

Expose yourself to positive thinking, inspirational books and ideas.

"Reading about people who overcome incredible odds to achieve their goals can fill you with a positive attitude," said Dr. West.

Upbeat movies such as Free Willy or Forrest Gump can also make you feel good. See these movies and try to adopt their positive attitude in your own life.

Find a constructive outlet for getting out of the dumps. "Pick something that you can do alone, that requires concentration and that you enjoy," suggested Dr. West.

When you feel blue, do crossword puzzles, knit, play video games, golf, go jogging — whatever boosts your spirits.

Do volunteer work. "You'll be helping others, which will make you feel good about yourself. Volunteer groups are filled with people who have an upbeat, positive attitude, and you'll learn from them.

"And even if you don't have a lot of free time, you can do things for charities on an event-by-event basis that won't require a great time commitment."

Dr. West concluded: "By following these simple tips, you'll learn to develop a positive mental attitude."

Are you allergic to your jewelry? Here's a simple way to find out!

Some people are allergic to nickel, and experience soreness and discomfort if they wear jewelry that contains it.

Costume jewelry is often nickel-plated — and even 14-karat gold has enough nickel in it to cause a reaction, according to a recently released study.

You can find out if you're allergic to nickel by taking the following simple test:

Tape a nickel coin to your arm and leave it there overnight. The next morning if you find a round red spot where the nickel was, you're probably allergic, and should avoid jewelry that has the metal in it.

EVEN gold jewelry contains nickel.

Have you heard about that new kind of home entertainment? It's called conversation.

Learn to fall safely & avoid serious injury!

Learning to fall safely can save you from serious hip injury.

According to a new study, researchers found that most elderly people who had suffered hip fractures had landed directly on their hips without doing anything to break their fall.

He suggests that as you sense yourself falling, try to "sit down," so that you land on your natural padding.

If you can't manage that, at least be sure to stretch out your hands to cushion your fall.

20 surefire tips to make your relationships last forever!

You can make your relationships more loving and last forever by following 20 surefire tips, say experts.

"Good friendships and relationships don't just happen — people make them happen," said Dr. Frederick Humphrey, an expert of family studies.

By SHARON BAINES
Weekly World News

And here are the tips that will work for you, according to Dr. Humphrey and Dr. Anthony Pietropinto, a distinguished psychiatrist:

1 Give relationships time to develop. True intimacy grows slowly.

2 Be honest and open with those you love. Telling lies, being deceitful and keeping secrets can damage a relationship.

3 Expect imperfections in your loved ones. Nobody is perfect — and sometimes minor shortcomings can even be endearing.

4 Always treat others the way you want to be treated.

5 Take pride in your loved ones' successes. And avoid competing with them or comparing their accomplishments with your own.

6 Don't expect things always to go smoothly. Even the most loving relationships are marked by occasional disagreements and conflicts. "If you find people who say they never fight, you've probably found people who are not communicating," said Dr. Humphrey.

7 Let others get close to you. The more you share of yourself the more likely you are to find true intimacy.

8 Share equally in responsibility for the relationship, but don't keep score. The other person won't always be able to do exactly the same number of things for you that you did for your partner.

9 Hug your loved ones every day. "The warmth of human touch helps get rid of loneliness and despair," said Dr. Pietropinto.

10 Be a good listener. It shows that you care and it makes the other person feel important.

11 Be willing to forgive and give to others. Everybody has blind spots and the advice you get may help you improve.

12 Tell people you love how wonderful they make you feel. They will appreciate hearing comments such as: "Being with you really makes me feel good."

13 Don't be judgmental. Avoid saying things like: "You're never on time" or "You don't love me." Instead say, "What happened? I missed you," or "I feel unloved. Would you hug me?"

14 Learn to recognize your loved one's moods and don't expect the person always to be happy. If your mate is tired from a long nerve-racking day, offer comfort instead of demands.

15 Be free with compliments. Mark Twain once said that he could live for two months on a good compliment. And if you offer sincere compliments, they'll carry your loved ones pretty far, too.

16 Do fun things together, such as long walks, creative work or sports activities.

17 Anticipate the other person's needs. For example, if your loved one is going on a trip, think about what your partner may need and get it ready ahead of time. It will show that you really care.

18 Don't expect all your needs to be filled by one person. This puts too much pressure on the relationship.

19 Never take a loved one for granted. Each day look at the person as if you were meeting him or her for the first time.

20 Don't try to force love. "It can't be manufactured on demand," said Dr. Pietropinto. "Let it develop in its own time. Become friends first — and love will grow from there."

WARNING! Touching fruits & veggies before sunbathing can cause bizarre skin reaction!

Warning! A little-known and sometimes severe skin reaction is triggered by touching certain fruits and vegetables and then going out in the sun, say doctors.

The skin condition ranges from a mild rash to painful blisters. And the produce that causes the problem include common items like lemons, limes, some types of oranges, figs, parsley and even carrots.

Remarkably, sunseekers have had the most severe reactions using perfumes and after-shaves with ingredients made from fruit.

"It's a bizarre condition," says dermatologist Dr. Ronald Hansen.

He explained that the juice of certain fruits and vegetables contains sun-sensitive substances.

If the juice gets on a person when they're cutting, squeezing or eating, it can cause a reaction known as phytophotodermatitis.

"It can show up as redness like a sunburn or a brown blotch which lasts from a few days to a few weeks," said Dr. Hansen.

No treatment is required for those reactions but sometimes painful blisters develop and must be treated with steroid drugs.

There's no telling how many people are affected by the little-known condition, said Dr. Hansen.

Dermatologist Dr. Walter Shelley says: "People who expect to be in the sun should be careful about handling fruits and vegetables and particularly careful with perfumes."

THE FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH CAN BE YOURS

"The discovery of a new natural protein enzyme may turn into a major breakthrough in health and aging", declared a research chemist at the National Institute of Aging, a branch of the U.S. Government's National Institute of Health. "It's a most exciting finding and it certainly looks strongly as if this enzyme is going to play an important role in retarding aging and promoting a long life" he said.

The new enzyme has a double action. One, it can help people 'look' up to 30 years younger by smoothing out wrinkles and firming up skin. Two, it boosts the energy supply and slows down the aging process, so you can not just live a longer but also a healthier life. And to top it off, it's perfectly safe and has no side-effects, top doctors and scientists say.

According to a New York leading neurologist and nutrition specialist, "It can make people in their 40's look like they're in their 20's, while people in their 60's may look like they're 35 or 40."

An Atlanta physician and former director of physical health services for the Georgia Regional Hospital, reports that he has tested the enzyme on dozens of patients and "it worked miracles!"

A doctor of Osteopathy, founder of the International Academy of Preventive Medicine, said: "I have used it on over 1,000 patients. Within weeks people begin to feel healthier and stronger. Within one to three months the wrinkles and lines in their faces begin to disappear and they actually start looking younger. Their skin has a better color and their bodies become suppler and more youthful. It is very definitely an anti-aging substance that slows down degenerative diseases."

Scientists believe the enzyme is an ideal weapon against senility and recommend that everyone start taking the enzyme at an earlier age to prevent the future ravages of aging, and to benefit from the enzyme's successful arthritis properties.

An organic chemist and noted authority on nutrition probably best sums up what the new substance can do for you by saying: "It's a miracle compound. You can literally turn back the hands of time with this new discovery!"

The new enzyme is being marketed under the trade name REJUVENAL and can be ordered directly from the sole distributor: TRACOMIN, Dept. RW-5, Box F-42363, Freeport, Bahamas (apply 50¢ stamp on envelope). Enclose check or money order for 1-month supply: $19.95; 3-months: $52.88;

PSYCHIC HELPS PARENTS VISIT THEIR DEAD CHILDREN

AMAZING Axel Grosch is the only psychic who has perfected the technique of sending living souls to the afterlife.

Minnesota man gives grief-stricken mothers and fathers new hope!

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Psychic Axel Grosch is bringing peace to the grief-stricken parents of dead children — by arranging for them to meet with their lost loved ones in Heaven!

By LISA MERAKIS
Weekly World News

Hundreds of parents swear the spiritualist has helped them enormously by transporting their souls to the next world, where they have spent a few hours with their dearly departed. Most used the precious time to bid their children goodbye, but some have returned for repeated visits.

"It just makes me so happy to see Becky up there in God's paradise, surrounded by other loving souls," says Teresa Mandivento, 33, whose 9-year-old daughter died on December 18, 1994, of leukemia.

"I've been with my daughter in Heaven three times since her death. She is healthy again and full of joy and every time I see her I feel better about her death. I know now that when I die we will be together again forever."

Teresa says that sometime in the future she may want to visit her daughter again, but she no longer feels it's an urgent need. She says with Dr. Grosch's help she has now accepted her daughter's passing.

A reclusive psychic, Dr. Grosch perfected the ability to send the souls of living clients out of their bodies and into the afterlife in 1993. Initially, he offered his services to anyone who wished to spend a few precious moments with a dead relative.

But after he was swamped with more requests for help from grief-stricken people than he could handle, he decided to restrict his service to mourning parents only. Since then he has helped more than 400 parents cope with the loss of young children.

"My wife and I wanted to see our dead son, Tim, who committed suicide three years ago at the age of 14," said another grateful parent, a lawyer who asked that his name not be revealed. "Dr. Grosch put us into a deep trance and we woke up in Heaven with Tim. It was the most healing thing I've ever experienced.

"The moment we saw him we realized our son was happier than he had ever been in life. He was glowing. He rushed up to us and threw his arms around us and told us how much he loved us. And he told us it wasn't our fault that he had killed himself — he said it was God's plan. From that moment on, we've felt at peace about his death."

Experts say Dr. Grosch is the only psychic who has perfected the technique of sending living souls to the afterlife. But the miracle medium has agreed to teach the process to other psychics, so the technique should soon become more widely available.

"He's been so busy helping people that he just didn't want to take time out to teach," said Teresa, who volunteers as an assistant in the psychic's suburban office. "But he owes it to the world to pass his knowledge on."

'I've been with my daughter in Heaven 3 times since her death,' says loving mom!

LITTLE Becky Mandivento, 9, died on December 18, 1994, of leukemia.

Teresa Mandivento's daughter Becky died eight months ago, but thanks to psychic Axel Grosch, the young mom knows her child is just fine — because she's been to Heaven to visit her!

Dr. Grosch hypnotized the St. Paul divorcee and took her back to a happy time she shared with Becky before the child died of leukemia. Then, as Teresa lay in a deep trance, the psychic freed her soul and sent it out of her body straight to Becky's side.

"I found myself hovering in the air," Teresa recalled. "Then I was swept through a tunnel into a brilliantly lit meadow, where little Becky was waiting for me. She was beautiful, as healthy and content as I have ever seen her.

"We both wept with joy. There was so much to talk about. Becky put her arms around me and promised that she was absolutely fine. She said that one day I would understand that death is not a bad thing, but a wonderful happiness there, was something I'd never felt before."

Teresa returned two more times to see Becky and says she may go back someday. But for now, she says, she
